Heat 1

Heat 1 saw Alex Whipday start in Pole position, a blistering get away by Eric Su meant he was into P3 by the end of the first lap. Meanwhile out in front, Alex was pulling away bit by bit each lap; building a gap to Joe Slamon in P2. A train of drivers led by Eric Su was hunting down Joe in P2. Despite his excellent defensive driving, Joe could no longer keep Eric behind him and dropped to P3. Dominic Roberts shortly followed Eric through and gets promoted to P3. An excellent move from Daniel Sherry driving around the outside of Joe on the entry to the tunnel sees him promoted to P4. The chequered flag is waved, Alex has led from start to finish and was largely unchallenged throughout. An excellent drive from P5 on the grid sees Eric finish P2, followed by Dominic.

Heat 2

Heat 2 saw Liam Yarwood start in Pole position. Another lightning start from Eric sees him claim the lead after two corners. With the pack of drivers so closely bunched together, Liam was trying his hardest to keep the drivers behind at bay. Daniel was having another strong race with Dominic close behind. Dominic makes a move on Daniel, makes it stick and gets up to P3. On a charge now, Dominic makes a move on Liam and demotes him to P3. Daniel is looking to emulate Dominic's move on Liam and does so into the turn 8 hairpin, executing a switch back manoeuvre and holding that position for the rest of the race. It was an easy win for Eric, followed by Dominic and Daniel.

Heat 3

With the absence of Borghini Lam, everyone was promoted one position for Heat 3. Dominic Roberts led the pack away followed closely by Eric and Daniel. Eric again has a fantastic start and instantly demotes Dominic into P2. A close battle was unfolding between

Alex and Daniel in the midfield, with Alex sticking his nose in where he could, Daniel eventually succumbs to the pressure applied by Alex and runs wide at the chicane allowing the young driver through into the final podium position. Meanwhile at the back, another close battle between Liam and Joe was in progress, however the order remained unchanged at the back by the time the chequered was waved. Another effortless win for Eric, followed by Dominic Roberts and Alex Whipday.

Heat 4

Heat 4 saw Joe Slamon start in Pole position followed by Liam Yarwood and Alex Whipday. A slow get away by Liam saw him quickly drop down the order. Alex wasted no time in disposing of a slow moving Liam and then Joe. Daniel Sherry made a good start and started working his way through the field, up to P3 by the end of Lap 1. Liam pits to swap kart. Eric starts gathering momentum and overtakes Joe for P3, he then set his sights on closing down Alex. Joe spins out at the turn 8 hairpin, bringing out the yellow flags. A hungry Dominic Roberts starts closing in on Daniel Sherry for the final podium position. The chequered flag is waved and Alex Whipday holds on to claim another win, followed by Eric Su and Daniel Sherry.

The Final

After a string of wins between them, Eric Su and Alex Whipday lock out the front row, followed by Daniel Sherry, Dominic Roberts, Liam Yarwood and Joe Slamon.

The lights go out, however pole man Eric Su hardly gets going, a fault on the kart forces the Race Director to abort the start and change the kart.

The drivers got themselves back onto their grid spots, the lights go out again and it was a clean start by all drivers. Alex Whipday applies pressure on Eric early on, pushing him hard through the first couple of corners, but Eric holds his nerve and more importantly his position.

By the end of the first lap it's very close between all drivers, Daniel Sherry is pushing very hard in the early stages and bumps into Alex Whipday, Daniel loses some ground to Alex in P2 ahead. Eric and Alex start to pull away from Daniel in P3 and the rest of the pack.

Dominic Roberts had another strong race in the final and was all over the back of Daniel in the opening stages, Dominic makes a move on Daniel and makes it stick, Daniel not being disheartened holds onto the back of Dominic and repays the favour, making a move down the inside of the turn 3 hairpin. Daniel knuckles down and starts to move away from Dominic.

Out front Eric was starting to pull away from Alex, managing to increase the gap slowly each lap. At the back, Liam and Joe were fighting hard and keeping in touch with the leaders.

The chequered flag is waved and it's another comprehensive win for Eric Su, Alex Whipday follows through to finish 2nd and Daniel Sherry claims the final podium position.
