Heat 1

Dominic Roberts started on pole position for heat 1 with Eric Su just behind. The lights went out and it was a fast start for Eric, challenging Dominic into turn one, however, it was Alex Whipday who was able to place his kart on the inside of Eric into turn 1, getting himself up into P2. Both Alex and Eric got their heads down in pursuit of Dominic out front. Eric managed to use the cut back effectively on Alex on the turn 3 hairpin to get himself up in to P2. It was a close battle throughout for the top 4. Eric managed to make a move on Dominic heading into the tunnel and Alex was able to follow Eric straight through as was P4 racer Daniel Sherry. Shortly after, the chequered fell and Eric led Alex Whipday and Daniel Sherry across the line, followed by pole sitter Dominic Roberts.

Heat 2

Joe Slamon started heat 2 in pole position. He led the drivers away, the fast starting duo of Alex Whipday and Eric Su managing to dispose of Liam Yarwood in the first lap as well as a Joe, the pair of them again setting Joe up through the tunnel section of the circuit. The yellows came on at Turns 1 and 2 as Dominic Roberts suffers a mechanical failure and limps back into the pits for a kart change, in the process he drops to last place. In the midfield a tasty battle was developing between the pole sitter and Daniel Sherry for the final podium position. In the dying stages, Daniel's persistence paid off as he managed to make his way through to get into the top 3. In a reverse to heat 1, Alex Whipday leads home Eric Su followed by Daniel Sherry.

Heat 3

Heat 3 was led away by Daniel Sherry. Another electric start by Eric sees him claim the lead of the race by turn 2 of the first lap! The battle between P3 to P6 was very close, led by Liam Yarwood. At the back, Alex Whipday was slowly but surely making his way through the field, and overtook Liam Yarwood for P3. Joe Slamon and Dominic Roberts were battling hard at the back, however Joe was too ambitious with a manoeuvre and subsequently lost ground to Dominic. Back out front, Eric was doing all that was needed to maintain and then further increase the gap to Daniel Sherry. BLACK FLAG for Liam Yarwood after committing an ABC. He failed to serve the penalty in the sinbin and was deducted 5pts. The chequered was waved and another for Eric Su, followed by Daniel Sherry and Alex Whipday.

Heat 4

Alex Whipday started the final heat in P1 from Joe Slamon and Dominic Roberts. Lights go out and Eric Su managed to gain two positions within the first two corners. Daniel Sherry also took advantage of his good start, managing to get just in front of Eric, however Daniel ran slightly wide at turn 3, allowing Eric through. Daniel tenaciously sticks to Eric, however spins himself out whilst attempting an overtake on Eric. Out front Alex and Joe were setting the pace, Dominic Roberts was slowly falling down the order, having been consumed by Liam earlier in the race, it was Liam who was to be overtaken by Eric for the final podium position. The chequered was waved and it was Alex who crossed the line first, followed by Joe Slamon and Eric Su.

The Final

After a string of wins between them, Eric Su and Alex Whipday locked out the front row, followed by Daniel Sherry, Joe Slamon, Dominic Roberts and Liam Yarwood

The lights go out, Eric Su got a good start along Alex Whipday, instantly the pair of them stamping their dominance on the field. A slow reacting Dominic Roberts got swamped at the start.

Daniel Sherry briefly managed to pass Joe Slamon, however Joe stuck to Daniel's bumper and repaid the favor heading into the tunnel. This battle wasn't to conclude just yet, Daniel was holding his own and trying his hardest to get the position back from Joe.

Out front, the gap between Eric and Alex was slowly being increased lap by lap, Alex seemingly unable to respond to Eric's pace.

An interesting sight on the track followed as the field split into three groups of 2 kart battles. Continuing with the battle between Joe and Daniel, despite him trying his hardest, Daniel had a small lapse in concentration, missing his braking point and taking out Joe Slamon ahead. A BLACK FLAG was issued followed by a 5 second stop-go penalty in the sinbin.

Towards the latter stages of the race, the yellows were out, as Daniel Sherry spun at turn 1, unfortunately ending his race long battle with Dominic Roberts.

Eric Su won from Alex Whipday and Joe Slamon.
