

Round 10

26th October 2014

Cadets

Inkart Championship 2014

Heat 1

Thomas Oxley made a very good start immediately jumping ahead of Philip Berry at hairpin one, only for Phil to cut back underneath and regain the position through the tunnel. Into lap 2 the pressure was clearly getting to Borghini Lam as he made a mistake into turn 1 allowing Andres and Ollie Shaw to pass. Back at the front Thomas looks to push Phil wide into hairpin 2 giving him the inside line to make the overtake, Thomas receives a black flag for this manoeuvre and rejoins in 5th place. Andres now right on the back of Phil cuts back on hairpin one and gives himself the inside line into the tunnel making the overtake and taking the race win.

Heat 2

A good even start by all drivers, Jordan Cain pulls off a very nice overtake on Alex Bomberg at hairpin one making his way up the order. Nathan Smith goes wide at the hairpin and allows Ollie Shaw and Eric Su through,

Ollie a little caught out by this goes wide out of the hairpin as Eric goes for the inside into the tunnel and makes it stick. Eric now up to 2nd and looks to have the pace to stick with Andres at the front. Jordan now trying to pass Michael Burrows, he goes for the inside through the tunnel but Michael manages to stick it round the outside and hold the position. Last lap and Eric is really hassling Andres but runs out of time and has to settle for 2nd.

Heat 3

Jacob made a poor start dropping down the order as he still gets to grips with the InKart Championship. Alex Whipday made a good start passing Thomas only for Thomas to fight back through the tunnel and retake the position. Phil Berry makes a small mistake through turn 1 holding up Alex and Thomas who again goes for the inside line at hairpin 1 but is too hot and Alex cuts back to hold the position. At the front its Eric and Alex Bomberg, Alex putting immense pressure on Eric as they fight for the lead, Eric shows his maturity and holds on to 1st place.

Heat 4

A manic start to heat 4 Jordan passes Jacob at turn 1 but is unaware that Eric is lining up an overtake and manages to pass him into the tunnel, Jordan keeps his cool and repasses Eric the following lap. Next lap round

Jordan does it again on Michael Burrows to take the lead of the race, Eric sees an opportunity and goes for the overtake as well, Eric makes a small mistake and spins Michael out of contention, Eric picks up a black flag for this overtake. Jordan Cain took the race win.

Nathan Smith made a slow start dropping down the order. Michael Burrows trying to make his way up the field goes for an overtake on Phil Berry into T9, he is too far back and Phil closes the door, Michael hits the barriers on the inside, spins the kart round and has to be recovered by the marshal. Alex Whipday is driving very well and has a big lead, he takes the win ahead of Phil with Nathan taking 3rd place who had a very good recovery drive after his poor start.

Heat 6

Ollie Shaw made a poor start but managed to cut across and just about hold his starting position although he was very lucky not to get spun around. Phil Berry went wide into turn one, Andres tried to go around the outside but Phil bounced off the barriers and pushed Andres into the up ramp barriers, he manage to hold his position but had to defend into the hairpin. Andres looked to be a little off form and made an uncharacteristic mistake spinning at hairpin 2 and dropping down to last. He makes a quick recovery and comes back to overtake Phil in the closing laps. Jordan took the race win ahead of Alex Whipday.

Heat 7

Eric made a poor start and pushed Alex Whipday into the barriers on the up ramp as he recovered, Thomas held his starting position and immediately pulled away from the pack, Michael Burrows and Eric Su battling it out for 2nd but are so evenly matched Eric cannot make an overtake. Alex Whipday recovering from his poor start made a good overtake on Nathan Smith at hairpin one, Thomas took the race win after a very good drive, Michael Burrows held on for 2nd ahead of Eric Su.

Heat 8

Thomas Oxley looks to have an issue and is very slow off the line he pulls into the sinbin then into the pitlane for a kart change, Jordan Cain goes for the inside line at the hairpin, overcooks it and Andres repasses. Into lap 2 and Jordan takes a wide line into the hairpin and manages to get the cutback and inside line into the tunnel to make the overtake. Andres sticks with Jordan and appears to have more pace but is unable to pass Jordan as he again shows his excellent defensive driving skills to take the race win.

The Finals

Another hectic start to the B-Final as Alex Bomberg holds the outside line around turn one, Michael Burrows tries to pass onto the bridge but the gap closes and Michael is forced into the barriers, he loses a lot of momentum and Thomas passes, Ollie Shaw has a small lead but Alex is catching fast, Alex puts on the pressure and manages to pass Ollie through the hairpin section to take the lead. Michael is also hassling Ollie, last lap and Michael goes for it into the final corner, a little side by side contact but nothing against the rules, Michael takes 2nd place.

The A-Final saw Jordan Cain on pole position ahead of Andres. The only position change off the start was Alex Bomberg moving from 7th into 5th. Andres tries inside line into hairpin one but Jordan immediately cuts back into the tunnel and retakes the lead, Alex Whipday right with Andres and looking for a way to overtake, Alex Bomberg again makes another overtake at hairpin one to pass Eric Su for 4th position. Andres applying a lot of pressure to Jordan but he's coping well, Andres takes the lead of the race at hairpin one with Jordan unable to cut back. Jordan takes the inside line at the final corner to get on the inside of Andres into turn one, Andres is forced to back out and defend from Alex W who is still in the fight. Andres then gets a run on Jordan into the tunnel, Jordan manages to hold his speed around the outside and have the inside for the next right hander to keep the lead. Jordan goes very defensive as the final lap board goes out, altering his line through the hairpin to hold on and take another InKart final victory, Andres second with Alex Whipday a very strong third.
