29th June 2014

Cadets

Inkart Championship 2014

DAYTONA MANCHESTER

Heat 1 & 2

Heat 1 saw Jordan Cain getting a good start from pole position, Luis also made a good start jumping from 5th into 3rd place around turn 1. Jordan and Luke begin to pull away from Luis in 3rd place as Luis looks to be struggling with controlling the back end of the kart but holding 3rd. Logan tried to cut-back on Luis at hairpin 3 but was unable to make a move stick and has to settle for 4th position, Jordan now with a strong lead takes an easy win from pole position with Luke Taylor finishing in 2nd place and Luis holding on for 3rd.

Heats 3 & 4

Thomas Oxley's luck didn't get any better in heat 3 as he made a poor start dropping from 4th to 6th place, he quickly gets up to speed and starts trying to get some positions back. Alex Whipday made a good start and straight away pulled out a good lead. Michael Burrows in 3rd place looking to pass Luke for 2nd gets a bit close on the hairpins and picks up a bumping warning for excessive contact with Luke.

Heats 5 & 6

Logan Parker made the most of pole position straight away putting in some fast laps to gap the rest of the field, Eric Su made a good start moving into 2nd place ahead of Luis Gardner, Luis looked to retaliate at hairpin 2 on the opening lap but didn't gain position and was issued with a bumping warning. A very tense battle then began for 2nd place with 4 drivers all in a line and no-one giving any space to overtake, Eric at the front of this pack showed his defensive driving skills holding his position. Bumping

A slow start to heat 2 for Henry Poole as he drops behind Veimar into 3rd place, Thomas and Luis soon feel the pressure from Veimar as he makes his way up behind them before a textbook inside line overtake at turn 1 to pass Luis putting him, Veimar, into 2nd place to challenge Thomas who appeared to gap Veimar for a few laps but that gap was soon cut down after some very fast laps from Veimar. Further back a good battle for 4th between Michael Burrows and Philip Berry; with Michael unable to make a move stick he has to settle for 4th position. At the front Veimar is now right behind Thomas and looking for a way to overtake. As the drivers start their final lap they come up behind Henry Poole, at the last corner Thomas decides to go for the outside line to pass Henry. Unaware of his presence, Henry takes the usual racing line pushing Thomas into the pit straight and allowing Veimar to take the lead as the pair take the chequered flag, Veimar takes the win from an unhappy Thomas, while Luis holds on for 3rd position.

Thomas still trying to make up for his poor start makes a fantastic overtake on Eric Su who looks to be struggling this round. Alex Whipday takes the race win with Luke Taylor in 2nd and Michael Burrows 3rd.

Once again Jordan makes the most of the start moving into 2nd from p4 on the grid. Thomas also makes up some places ending lap one in 5th place. A straight forward race from here on saw Veimar pull away and take the heat victory with Jordan looking to struggle a bit for pace finishing 2nd ahead of Alex Bomberg who is having a consistent but quiet round. Luke Taylor gave it his all to pass Thomas in the closing laps but was unable to pull off a successful overtake.

board going out again to Michael Burrows at the back of the battle for excessive contact, he acknowledges the board and appears to give Alex Whipday a small amount of breathing space. Logan takes a clear win with Eric in 2nd and Luis taking 3rd.

Heat 6 saw arguably the best start of the season as Jordan drove his kart up the inside of turn 1 then outside of turn 2 keeping himself out of trouble to move from 6th into 1st in 2 corners! From that point he left the field and put in some of his fastest laps of the season. Philip and James had a small coming together at turn 1 which resulted in them both stopping against the barriers and losing a lot of time, Veimar tried everything to pass Alex Bomberg for 2nd but had to settle for 3rd place while Jordan took the race win by 7 seconds.

Heats 7 & 8

Another clean start by pole position man Philip, he has to defend from Veimar into hairpin one but manages to hold his position. Thomas Oxley goes for an inside line manoeuvre on Logan Parker onto the bridge putting Logan into a spin, bringing out yellow flags on that section of track and also earning Thomas a black flag. By this point, Philip had a good lead and is looking strong for a race win. James Brown and Logan come together around the final corner with James spinning himself across the front of Logan's kart. Luke Taylor and Veimar caught Philip with a few laps remaining but were unable to make an overtake stick. Philip took the race win.

Jordan Cain made a slow start to heat 8 but managed to hold 4th place. Eric Su and Michael Burrows lead the race with Jordan making an overtake on Alex Bomberg at turn 1 to take 3rd. He then went on to chase down the leaders but was too late to attempt an overtake. Eric takes the race win ahead of Michael Burrows.

The Finals

The B Final saw a very aggressive start from Philip Berry in 2nd cutting across and nearly spinning himself round and slowing down Alex Bomberg, Michael Burrows takes the lead from Alex at hairpin 1 on the opening lap. Luis Gardner hit the barriers on the exit of hairpin one and knocked the chain off his kart bringing out full course yellow flags. The drivers took a long time to respond to the yellow flags and took a few laps to slow down, once Luis was back on track in a different kart the race was restarted. Phil Berry made the most of the restart and passed Thomas at hairpin one only to spin at turn 1 and give the place back, Michael Burrows took the win with Alex Bomberg in 2nd and Thomas Oxley in 3rd.

Jordan Cain was our pole sitter for the a final, Veimar on 2nd tried around the outside of turn 1 then inside of turn 2 but Jordan held a wide line out of 1 cutting off any attempts from Veimar. Logan Parker also made a good start to pass Eric on lap 1. By this point Jordan and Veimar had disappeared into the distance in a league of their own. Eric tried to fight back against Logan but couldn't find a way through.

Back at the front it was a carbon copy of last month's final with Veimar clearly the faster driver but Jordan managing to keep him behind with some excellent defensive driving. Jordan managed to hold onto 1st to take the race win, despite Veimar's best efforts. Logan secured 3rd place ahead of Eric.
